Tears are for the Living — by Margaret Banister, Houghton Mifflin, $5.75

"On her hundredth birthday, Miss Janie sat in her wheelchair by the window of the front parlor, dressed in her best gray silk" — Thus we are introduced to "Tears are for the Living" by the Lynchburg author, Miss Banister. This is a warm story of the family life in Virginia from the day of General Lee's surrender through the rebuilding of life after the war — and then right on down to 1965 and a new South and a new world.

Miss Banister was born in Lynchburg but has spent most of her adult life in Washington, D.C. During her varied career, she was once Public Relations Officer for Sweet Briar College. She is now retired and living in Charlottesville, Va.

Miss Banister has not created another Civil War novel. It is the century following Appomattox; it is the story of a family, their friends, and acquaintances. It is both rich and real — nothing is sensationalized, there is no vulgarity, no deviation from good taste. Here you will find the culture, the development, the thinking of Virginia, the South, the North and the American people.

Although the novel tends to lapse in interest during the last two hundred pages — you will find this well worth your reading. The Appomattox County Library highly endorses it to you!

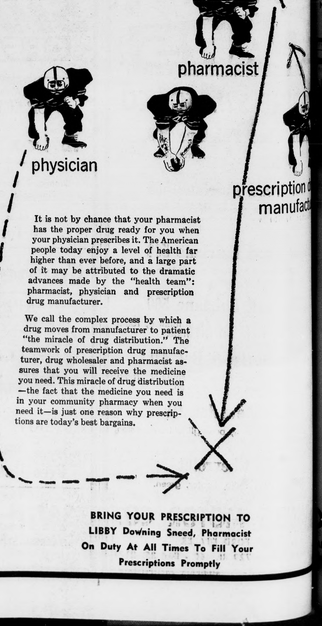
SNEED'S PHARMACY

Your Community Drug Store

Where There Is No Parking Problem

Route 460 Appomattox, Va.

PHARMACY—part of your health team



It is not by chance that your pharmacist has the proper drug ready for you when your physician prescribes it. The American people today enjoy a level of health far higher than ever before, and a large part of it may be attributed to the dramatic advances made by the "health team": pharmacist, physician and prescription drug manufacturer.

We call the complex process by which a drug moves from manufacturer to patient "the miracle of drug distribution." The teamwork of prescription drug manufacturer, drug wholesaler and pharmacist assures that you will receive the medicine you need. This miracle of drug distribution —the fact that the medicine you need is in your community pharmacy when you need it—is just one reason why prescriptions are today's best bargains.

Miss Hix, Dr. Satterfield Wed In Prospect Methodist Church

The marriage of Miss Emma Garnett Hix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Wilson Hix, of Prospect, to Dr. Benton Sapp Satterfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Howard Satterfield, of Raleigh, N. C., took place at 4 p.m. Saturday, October 5, in the Prospect Methodist Church.

The Rev. Robert Donald Carson, of Sanford, N. C., uncle of the bride, officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory lustre satin. The neckline was edged in a whirl motif of Duchesse lace and the soft bell sheath skirt was bordered at the hem and waistline with matching lace.

Her veil of English illusion fell from a pill box of Duchesse lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of shalaenopels orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Kenneth Wren, of Portsmouth, was matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. James McMullin, of Lafayette Hills, Penn.; Miss Linda Ann Matt, of Westfield, N. J.; Miss Judith Ann Simms, of Radford.

"Lucky Locket" On Main Street

Do readers know that old rhyme about "Lucy Locket lost her pocket?" We don't know what the real Lucy is, but there's a good looking wallet in the TIMES office, found by the publisher, Lloyd Vaughan. Rebels Rally Top Governors

Appomattox fought back to defeat Nelson County 21 to 13 in a Group II District IV contest. Nelson dominated the first half of the game and Appomattox the last.

On the first play of the game quarterback Randy Powell flipped a short pass to Kenny Purvis, who raced 76 yards for a touchdown. Dan Napier ran the extra point to put Nelson in the lead 7-0. The Rebels seemed to be dazed by the quick score and had trouble working together.

In the second quarter Kenny Purvis sprinted 69 yards for his second TD. The Governors were on the move.

Things looked dim for the Rebels at the half, downed 13-0.

The Rebs came out for the last half with their backs to the wall and they knew it.

This was not the Rebel team of the first half. There was something different about this team; they had been "fired-up" and wanted to play football.

A very short time had passed before the Rebels' Jimmy Torrence threw a pass to G. H. Jamerson for their first TD. Torrence hustled over for the point after. Later in the same quarter Torrence raced 25 yards for another tally and edged A.H.S. ahead 14-13 with the extra point.

Bill Bryant jumped on a lose ball in the third stanza to halt a Nelson drive. Then the Johnny Rebs drove for their third score with Torrence running 7 yards and also scoring the extra point. This put Appomatox ahead, 21-13, for keeps.

The Rebels now stand 3-0 in district play and will go against undefeated Brookville tomorrow. The game is to be played at 8 p.m. at Brookville High School. Be sure and come to the game!

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury CHEVROLET

'64 Chevrolet Impala Sport Sedan

Besides looks, ride and power - what's so special about it?

(it's so reasonably priced)

Kind of leaves the high-priced cars some explaining to do, wouldn't you say? Long and luxurious—with a freshchristened look. Richer roomy interiors with subtle new blendings of colors and fabrics. Like the ultra-soft vinyl upholstery in the new Chevrolet Impala Super Sport Series.

A choice of seven engines, no less, with output all the way up to 425 hp.* And a choice of four smooth transmissions to go with them.

And underlying it all, the opulent feel of this '64 Chevrolet's Jet-smooth ride.

Matter of fact, the most noticeable difference between this beautiful new 1964 Chevrolet and the high-priced cars is the price itself.

Let your dealer show you how much luxury that reasonable Chevrolet price now buys.
